ENJOY HASSLE-FREE COOKING WITH
ARIAFINA KITCHEN HOODS FROM FUJIOH.

Cooking can be a rather therapeutic and fulfilling activity. That is, until you realise the clothes you hung out to dry smell like last night's dinner or the walls have become so greasy that you're itching for a full-on spring-cleaning. But why go to all the trouble of cleaning up when you can spend that time with your family and loved ones? Yes, you can save time and energy with the Ariaфина kitchen hood range from Fujioh.

The Ariaфина collection is a sensuous blend of Italian sophistication with revolutionary Japanese technology, engineered to make your life easier. The kitchen hood in this series can trap up to 2.5 times more cooking fumes than your typical cooker hood, thanks to its groundbreaking Rectifier Panel. This component is capable of capturing greasy fumes from all directions instead of the single, upward flow.

Another vital part of the Ariaфина is the removable Oil Tech Filter. Airborne fats and oil globules are trapped in its Oil Catch Tray. As a bonus, these mechanisms in the Ariaфина run quietly in the background. The hood also utilises the energy-saving Sirocco fan (the same technology that air-conditioners use) while you prepare a gourmet meal in your squeaky clean kitchen.

Of particular note, the Federica FD-900 model in the Ariaфина range boasts the i-Drop system. This is a distinctive feature that effectively removes oily fumes by trapping it in a serrated surface within the Central Cartridge. So if you prefer not to deal with the traditional oil filter usually found in common cooker hoods, then this model is the right choice for you.

Only Fujioh kitchen hoods have this amazing technology that lets you enjoy a beautifully clean kitchen. But enough talk, time to relax and cook!
